

Canada's Launch of the UN Ocean Decade

March 3 2021

Vision for the Decade: The science we need for the ocean we want
Mission for the Decade: Transformative ocean science solutions for sustainable development, connecting people and our ocean

What does a successful decade look like to you?

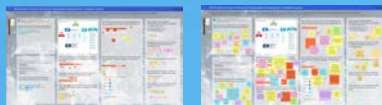

What do we need to do (or do differently) here in Canada to ensure that ocean science* directly contributes to solutions that ensure ocean health, economic prosperity, and community well-being?

 Ocean Science should be understood to be consistent with the inclusive definition including, but not limited to Indigenous Knowledge and marine social sciences etc.*
